Foster Parents Keep Custody of Child

JUDGE SMITH NOT FOR DISTURBING PRESENT RELATIONS

Principal of the cases coming before Circuit Court, in session here Tuesday, was that of the Estate of Beverly Jean Young, a dependent child, as appealed from Probate Court. Quite a complete resume of the case was presented in the Avalanche in our last week's edition.

This is a case where the child was placed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Watson of Vanderbilt, and the State Welfare commission, acting thru its local welfare agent, Mrs. Vivian Peterson, asked for the removal of the child from the Watson home, claiming it to be unfit as a home for the child.

The case had been before the local Probate court which ordered the child taken from the home pending further investigation, and placed in the care of Mrs. Frank Cochran. Whereupon the Watsons took steps to recover the child, and petitioned the Probate court for its return, which petition contained signatures of 37 residents of their home community of Vanderbilt.

Thus the case reappeared in Probate Court and was heard by Judge Bowman of Roscommon Probate court, as requested by Judge Sorenson. After hearing the testimony Judge Bowman ordered the child be returned to the Watson home.

Then again the State Welfare department made efforts to again take the child from the Watson home, giving as its reasons that that family was on the welfare and not suitable for rearing a child.

The people's side of the case was represented by the counsel of Prosecuting Attorney Merle F. Nellist and Deputy Attorney General Albert T. Washburn of Lansing. The latter explained to the writer that this was a case that was originally instituted before the present State Welfare administration had assumed the duties of the organization. "We are glad," he said, "the matter is now satisfactorily cleared up and will not be brot up again." The respondents were represented by Attorney Charles E. Moore of Grayling.

The case was presented by Mr. Nellist and Mr. Moore moved that the case be dismissed because of the fact that its claims were based upon conclusions and not upon facts. After some arguments between the attorneys, the court decided that it would be more satisfactory to determine the case on the merits of the testimony.

Mrs. Peterson, the first witness for the State, stated in part that she had visited the Watson home and found it unclean and that Mrs. Watson was untidy and the baby was sickly, puny and dirty, and that its clothing poor and dirty. The family was on the welfare and the home was not a good place to bring up a child. The house and floors and curtains were not clean. Mrs. Watson wore a large, short dress, very much soiled; looked very untidy as to her face, hands and hair. Quoting Mrs. Watson, she said the Couzens Fund nurse had been there and said the child's health had not been good and she had been giving it cod-liver oil. On her second visit to the home, Mrs. Peterson said, she found it not well kept, and Mrs. Watson and the baby in no different condition than they were the first time they called. Mrs. Cochran and others contended that when the baby was born to the former's home that it was dirty and, except for its outside dress its clothing was dirty and poor.

Mr. Moore, attorney for the Watsons, presented as the first witness Mr. Watson who claimed that he was not a welfare dependent but that money he had received from that department was due from work he had done and was not a family dole. He said he was a blacksmith and that he had worked at his trade for several years. He said they took the child because they wanted it, and they loved it and the child loved them. Also that it had always been in good health and was well cared for.

Substantiating Mr. Watson's testimony was that of several witnesses from Vanderbilt who claimed that the Watson home was a fit place for the child and they would welcome such a home for their children. Mr. and Mrs. Watson are good church workers and considered by the people of that community as good citizens.

Mr. Moore presented Mrs. Watson and the child before the court and each made a good appearance and the child seemed happy and looked a picture of health.

Neither Attorney Washburn nor Attorney Moore presented a summary of the case after the testimony had been taken, preferring to leave the matter for Judge Smith on the merits of the testimony without argument.

Judge Smith said that it was always the first duty of the courts and those authorized to find homes for dependent children to consider the welfare of the child. First they must be well cared for and not be mistreated. He expressed his appreciation of the work the Welfare Commission is doing.

Speaking of the case before the court, he said "the Watsons are people of good, moral character, and I can see no reason for disturbing the decision of the Probate court." Thus the Watsons will continue to have the custody of the child and no doubt Judge Sorenson will issue a decree for its adoption.

One Case Tried In Circuit Court

Except for the Young dependent child case the holding of Circuit court this term was hardly worth the effort.

The criminal case of William A. Michael, charged with negligent homicide, was continued, and the other criminal case was continued because of the fact that Berry Lauder, charged with intent to kill, had escaped custody and as yet had not been apprehended. He had been in the local jail and at times worked about the jail and had never made an effort to leave. One day while he was in Gaylord on personal business at the Gaylord Bank, in company with Sheriff Bennett, he took French leave and has not been apprehended since.

All other cases on the calendar were summarily continued to the next term of court.

Legion Jottings

Thursday evening the Drum & Bugle Corps set aside practice to hold their annual election of officers and other business for the ensuing year. Following is the list of new officers for the coming year: President, Clarence Johnson; Honorary President, Alfred Hanson; Vice President, Harold Skingley; Secretary, Chas. E. Moore; Executive committee, Harry Sorenson and Adolph Peterson; Quartermaster, Carlton Wythe. Most of the members of the Corps were present and praise was given to the officers of the past year as they have worked hard to make a success of the Corps.

Monday evening found several of the members of the Corps missing from the ranks, but nevertheless they held a good practice.

Sunday the Drum & Bugle Corps will go to Rose City for the Partridge Festival which takes place there Sunday and Monday, Oct. 13 and 14. Sunday afternoon there will be the parade in which the Corps will participate.

All members of the Drum & Bugle Corps are requested to be present at the American Legion Hall at 7:30 tonight (Thursday). Business of importance to come up at this time.

Now is the time Buddies to sign on the line to join the American Legion for the year 1936. Let's have all ex-service men in this year. Why be a slacker now, you weren't during the war. You can't afford to be without membership in the Legion.

Tentative arrangements call for a newspapermen's luncheon at noon, the business meeting and election of officers in the afternoon, and the jamboree at Hotel Wenonah in the evening.

(Dept. of Conservation Press Service).

More than 200,000 brown-clad hunters will move into the woods and fields of Lower Michigan Tuesday, Oct. 15, to open the upland hunting season.

Beginning on that date ring-necked pheasants, ruffed grouse, prairie chickens, sharp-tailed grouse, rails except coot, fox squirrels, woodcock and rabbits become legal game. The upland hunting seasons in the lower peninsula are:

Pheasants—Oct. 15 to 27, inclusive.

Ruffed grouse—Oct. 15 to Oct. 27, inclusive.

Prairie chickens—Oct. 15 to Oct. 27, inclusive.

Sharp-tailed grouse—Oct. 15 to Oct. 27, inclusive.

Fox squirrels—Oct. 15 to Oct. 24, inclusive.

Rails except coots—Oct. 15 to Nov. 19, inclusive.

Woodcock—Oct. 15 to Oct. 27, inclusive.

The season on rabbits is staggered. North of the north line of Town 16 the season is open from Oct. 15 to Jan. 31, inclusive; south of that line, including all of Huron county, the season is open to and including Jan. 1.

Season bag limits on several species of birds have been increased over last year by the 1935 legislature. Six pheasants may be shot during the open season this year, instead of four which was the season limit last year. The season limit on ruffed grouse is 25 and on prairie chickens and sharp-tails, combined, 25. Last year it was 40. Day and possession limits are the same as last year. Pheasants cannot legally be hunted this year before sunrise.

All members of the Drum & Bugle Corps are requested to be present at the American Legion Hall at 7:30 tonight (Thursday). Business of importance to come up at this time.

Dental And Medical Attention

The most thorough dental and medical attention, including operations and hospital care, is provided soldiers absolutely without charge.

Physical Training

The physical training in the Army builds up any man and strengthens the stronger man. Medical men lay great stress on Army physical training. Some of them go as far as to say that because of the physical training received, one enlistment in the Army will add from three to five years to the life of the average young man.

Athletics

Athletics form a great part of the soldier's life. Every effort is made to provide wholesome athletic amusements. Games of all kinds are arranged between different organizations and keen interest and rivalry are maintained.

Practically all posts have baseball, football, basketball, and boxing. Some of the best professional baseball players have been developed in the Army. Alvin (General) Crowder, one of the pitchers for the

Kiwanians Entertain Road Commissioners

Potato Show To Present Dramas

The County Road commissioners were invited guests of the Kiwanis club at its luncheon Wednesday, when Commissioner Barnett presented a few facts and figures relative to the activities of the board for the past year.

Other members of the commission present were Chairman Harry Souders and Rufus Edwards. Axel Peterson, clerk of the board and James Knibbs, highway superintendent, also were present. Other guests present were A. W. Glidden, county agricultural agent, and Prof. O. E. Gregg, instructor in landscaping at Michigan State college.

"Three one-act plays will be presented by rural organizations in competition for the $30.00, $25.00 and $15.00 prizes, on Friday, November 1, as a part of the Show program," B. C. Mellencamp, chairman of the Show Dramatics Committee announced today. "The first prize winner will represent the Top O' Michigan at the State Rural Drama Contest which will be held at East Lansing on Friday of Farmer's Week, February 7, 1936.

"The type of plays selected by each contesting group and the interest which each organization is taking in this contest, indicates that this contest will be an outstanding feature of the entire show."

"The fact that the scope of this contest extends beyond the Potato and Apple Show should not be overlooked," continued Mr. Mellencamp. "Ten organizations scattered over Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego counties have entered the contest. The number of entries will be reduced to 3 by local elimination contests a week previous to the Show. The influence which this contest has had in each of these ten communities will be far greater than that at the district showing. The experience in play production which every contestant has had will give them an appreciation of the possibilities offered by home talent plays which cannot be equalled by any one in the audience."

The Top O' Michigan Rural Drama Contest is a cooperative project sponsored by the Speech Division of the English Department of Michigan State College, the Top O' Michigan Potato Association, and the County Agricultural Agents of the Show area.

It has been devised to stimulate interest in dramatic activity in rural communities and to demonstrate the opportunity which the utilization of home talent offers every community.

Recreation

During leisure hours soldiers amuse themselves by hunting, swimming, fishing, riding and other forms of sport. There are moving picture theatres in nearly every post, at a nominal price. The best films are shown at these post theatres. There are dances and similar social functions. Each post operates a library. Many posts have a golf course and bowling alleys. Some posts have a gymnasium and swimming pool.

Furloughs and Vacations

Soldiers are usually granted a furlough or vacation at the rate of one month per year on full pay. In case of emergency a soldier is allowed to return to his home for a reasonable length of time (on full pay). Passes for part of a day, or several days are frequently granted, and there are few restrictions on a soldier's time "off duty."

Pay and Opportunities for Advancement

Pay in the Army varies from $21.00 to $157.50 per month. All men must start at the lowest rate of pay. Any raise in pay is determined by merit and length of service. Some privates and privates first class may be appointed specialists on account of their knowledge and practice of special trades, and receive monthly additions up to $30.00 extra for such work. The pay is larger in fact than it might appear for all necessities are furnished. Soldiers have the opportunity to be promoted to higher noncommissioned grades when they have made good.

Retirement

After 30 years service in the Army, soldiers are retired on three-quarters of the pay they received at the date of their retirement, plus specified allowances for the rest of their lives. A soldier may receive up to $137.33 per month retirement pay. It depends on the grade in which he retired.

This letter is prompted by the sincere belief that many young Michigan men are failing to avail themselves of a worth while opportunity. It is estimated that in this state there are some 15,000 unemployed who are eligible for enlistment in the Army.

Applicants must be physically fit, between the ages of 18 and 35, unmarried, without dependents and of good moral character. They must have the consent of their parents or legal guardian if under 21 years of age.

Very truly yours,
Bryan L. Davis,
Captain, F. A.,
Recruiting Officer.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

Thursday, Oct. 10, 1912

As is well known, Gov. Osborn in accordance with a resolution of the legislature, appointed a committee to investigate and determine a site for a permanent encampment of the M.N.G., in conjunction with U.S. regulars.

Members of the Crawford Co. Commercial Association have been working hard to secure this location at Portage Lake in this county and we are pleased to state that our chances are excellent and there is very little doubt that next summer and the succeeding years will find the M.N.G. camped within our country. If this comes to us, much credit is due to President Hanson and Secretary Barnes particularly, for their efforts to influence the commission toward selecting this county for a camp. Others of our citizens have also materially assisted.

Mrs. Victor Lalonde of Lovells, with Mrs. Adam Gierke, enjoyed Saturday forenoon at the Montmorency county fair at Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lewis, accompanied by Miss McPhee, drove to Lovells, Sunday, and spent the afternoon there.

The members of the military commission, accompanied by the members of the state military board, will visit Portage Lake next Thursday, Oct. 17, on a tour of inspection.

He was caught with the goods upon his person and there was no alternative from the imposed sentence of buying the cigars for everyone present. He did it graciously.

There is a proposition on for the organization of an athletic association with a view of developing physical culture among our people. It is expected that a gymnasium building be erected and equipped at an expense of about $1500 and shares be sold at $10.00 each. If this matter goes through, and no doubt it will,

golf links, and tennis courts will be instituted and for that purpose R. Hanson and R. D.

Connine have offered to furnish the required land. These lands things we do them right. People generally recognize Grayling as being a good place to go to and

AN ENEMY PROVES TO BE A FRIEND

The things we do and things we say, "Tis true though hard to believe it so, About the likes of other folk More often than we ever know.

SO IT is that friends often hurt each other and in the same way enemies help each other without the least idea of so doing. It is a funny world. It certainly is a funny world. You think only of yourself and straightway do the greatest possible kindness or an equally great harm to some one of whom you are not thinking at all, and never know anything about it.

Just take the case of Mrs. Hooty and Danny Meadow Mouse. Danny always thought of Mrs. Hooty, just as he did of Mr. Hooty, as one of the enemies he must always be on the watch for after dark, and Mrs. Hooty always thought of Danny Meadow Mouse simply as a good dinner who she could catch him. The idea of doing Danny a good turn never in all her life had entered her head. Nor had the idea that she could do such a thing ever entered Danny's funny little head. Yet Mrs. Hooty did do Danny a good turn. In fact, all unknowingly she proved to be a friend.

You remember that Billy Mink had trapped Danny in a hollow log in the Green Forest. Billy couldn't get into that hollow log because the doorway was too small. So he promptly told Danny that he would keep watch until Danny starved to death inside or came out to be caught. Then Hooty the Owl and Mrs. Hooty arrived in a tree close by and Danny overheard Mrs. Hooty tell Hooty that she had seen and heard some one moving down below and that she intended to stay right there until she found out who it was.

Danny at once thought that she was watching for him. But when he had had time to think a little he remembered that he hadn't so much as poked his nose outside that hollow log since the coming of Mrs. Hooty, so of course she couldn't have seen him. Could it have been Billy Mink she had seen? Danny at once became very much interested and crept a little nearer the doorway. He wanted very much to see what was going on outside.

For some time nothing happened. Then he heard Hooty's voice way off in the distance. He crept just a wee bit closer to the doorway and peeped up in the top of the tree where he had heard Mr. and Mrs. Hooty talking. He was just in time to see a great dark shadow sweep silently down. He heard a spitfire snarl and knew then that Mrs. Hooty had tried to catch Billy Mink and had missed him. And he knew, too, that, having escaped, Billy would waste no time hanging about there, but would seek a safer place.

Danny let a little sigh of relief escape. Mrs. Hooty had frightened Billy Mink away and did not herself know that Danny was there. He was no longer trapped. She who would gladly have eaten him had proved a friend by setting him free. Didn't I say that this is a funny world?

PRICE OF A COLD

"I say, Betty," said the young man, full of confidence. "I've just been thinking how jolly it would be if we two got married. Any objections?"

"Dough," replied the young lady at once.

He reached for his hat and made for the door.

"H'm," he replied. "I might have known you'd have thought of that snag first."

He departed into the night, while she, poor girl—with a cold in her head—wondered why he left when she had accepted him.

MORALS AND MUSIC

The man who had just cleaned up a large fortune was starting his social career with a reception and concert.

"So you got a good piano player for the concert I'm giving?" he asked his newly acquired secretary.

"Yes, a truly great virtuoso."

"I don't care nothin' about his morals. Can he play?"—American Legion Monthly.

INCLUDING MOLAR CAVITIES

"What are the dining hours at your club?"

"From six to eight for all except the committee."

"Why the exception?"

"Because Rule 5 says: The committee is at liberty at any time to fill any vacancy in their body."—Bristol Express.

CALLS AND CALLS

"I know a man who had a hundred curtain calls a week."

"I suppose he was a matinee idol?"

"No, he was a house furnisher."

LITERARY CAREER

"How's your boy Josh doing in college?"

"Fine," answered Farmer Corn-tossel. "He don't seem so much in his classes or in football. But he has had a joke accepted by the college magazine."

IMPOSSIBLE

"I suppose King Solomon wasn't much of a traveler."

"Why not?"

"How could a man get anywhere when he had to kiss a thousand wives good-by?"

THING TO REMEMBER

"Do you think I could learn to be a moving picture actor?"

"Sure you could. Just remember this one thing. A heaving chest denotes surprise, fear, hate or any other emotion."

A PARTICULAR MISS

Arthur (to his best girl's sister)—Your sister lets me kiss her, won't you let me kiss you?

Little Sister (haughtily)—No! I don't allow all the gentlemen to kiss me that sister does.

SURPRISES

"Did the vote bring surprises?"

"Some," answered Senator Sorgum. "Occasionally the surprise was so great that we weren't sure whether we were working with a ballot box or a jack-in-the-box."

NO ARMCHAIR

Judge—What's the charge? Officer—Rocking his wife to sleep, yer honor.

Judge—That's no case.

Officer—Oh, but yer honor, yer should have seen the size of the rocks.

WHEN HE QUIT

"Will you be a poor man when you quit politics?"

"I may," answered Senator Sorgum, "but I'll have no chance to worry about it. I won't quit politics while I'm alive. After that, I won't be able to figure on what the doctor bills have left of my savings."

Why Go West?

By Gertrude Foley

Perhaps we Americans are disciples of the theory that "farthest fields are always fairest" and that may account for the number of tourists who endure heat, dust, and desert to see California before visiting New England.

Since I have traveled in every state in the Union, I am wondering why more people do not plan Eastern trips, as it is every bit as enjoyable as vacations spent on the West Coast. The scenery is just as wonderful and, being a shorter distance from our vicinity, the entire cost is a good deal less.

It would be hard to distinguish between the different places as to a favorite spot. The Adirondacks are lovely and going still farther east, one should not fail to look upon the Great Stone Face in the White Mountains of New Hampshire and etch Echo Lake upon his memory. Be sure to enjoy the native wild life by lingering near the mountain watering places, keeping in mind that often the smallest crevices conceal the most fascinating species. Take a dip in the refreshing waters of the Winnebago (the nudist paradise), then you will more than appreciate the words of Daniel Webster when he said "Here God Almighty makes men."

Of the historical spots, Ye Olde Boston, reminds one of a nice old lady, a bit prosy and often misjudged. The streets are little and poky, but you'll have to blame the cows for that. You know the proper toast—Here's to good old Boston—the home of the bean and the cod.

Where the Lowells speak only to Cabots, and the Cabots speak only to God.

I think Concord, Lexington, and Salem are my favorites. There is something so quiet and simple about those towns. Nothing seems to have changed much since the days of the Revolution. Wandering through the Old Manse, having tea at the House of Seven Gables, or strolling down the lane that leads to the Old North Bridge you feel that you may come face to face with Emerson or Hawthorne at any moment.

For those who enjoy the unique, Cape Cod is ideal. It has, of course, been commercialized to a certain extent but there are towns on it that have lost none of their story book charm. Provincetown is like something out of a movie. The place is overrun with artists, the kind who wear baggy tweeds and flowing ties, writers, resorters and of course the fisherman. It has funny little streets and the people seem to park anywhere at any time the fancy takes them.

For sheer beauty, the rocky coast of Maine impressed me strongly. Perhaps it was the ruggedness or maybe the sternness, but whatever, it was beautiful.

I left New York City with a feeling of regret, for in this ever changing city, (if your pocket is full of money) the world is yours.

This trip made a very pleasant vacation. I was captivated by the Bostonians, thrilled by the wonders of the world and fell in love with New England.

Boy Scout Doings

Hallowe'en Party

Thursday night, October 31, will make the launching of a real Hallowe'en party by the Scouts of Troop 72, for all school children. There will be a lot of work involved and the scouts will be doing their full share.

Last year the Junior-Senior council put on such an affair and it turned out to be a successful party. The scouts feel lucky in having the opportunity to give the party and promise a rousing time for everyone.

The party will be in the nature of a carnival party. Booth concessions of games, novelties, and eats will fill the gym. Dancing will prevail on one end of the floor and a special feature program will be introduced by the scouts. The program will include contests in tap dancing, musical instruments, boxing, apple dunking, cracker chewing, and tug of war. Possibly an amateur contest can also be worked in. Prizes will be given at the booths and games as well as at the contests.

Those who wish to mask or come in costumes will have the opportunity to compete for prizes. Last year several original costumes were evident and more are hoped for this year. Get your "get up" and get in the swing.

The admission and booth charges will be kept down in the "realm of cents" so that every boy and girl can come and enjoy a good time.

The balcony of the gym will be kept open for the parents who are all invited to come and look in on their youngsters having a good constructive rather than destructive time at the Boy Scouts Hallowe'en party.

Don't forget the date, Thursday, Oct. 31, 1935. Further information with a complete program will follow in an early edition of your home newspaper.

Boys and girls of Grayling, let's earn this party by having a good time Hallowe'en but not destroying property before or after Hallowe'en.

Last meeting night, seven boys passed their scout pace and are another step nearer their second class rating. The scouts pace calls for a mile in twelve minutes with only fifteen seconds allowance either way. Fifty paces must be at a walk and the next fifty at the scout lope. Some of the scouts have been trying for considerable time to judge the time and distance correctly.

The scouts witnessed what may be one of the championship football teams in the country when they saw the Grinnell-State football game two weeks ago. State's defeat of Michigan by a large score last week places them up in the standings so far.

Any former scout having a uniform or parts to sell please get in touch with any scout or the scout master.

Due to term exams the weekly meeting at the school house has been postponed from Wednesday to Friday of this week.

See the new boys All-Leather High Tops at $2.95 to $5.00, at Olsons.

Camp NewsCAMP HIGGINS.

An unanticipated 4,000 man day planting project was given the Higgins Lake camp. Weather permitting, it is planned to plant 1,000 acres. Pioneer Camp is also planting in the Higgins Lake state forest. In order to carry on this extensive project practically all of the other widely diversified projects have to be temporarily terminated.

Camp Higgins Lake's allotment of 18,000 man days for the fifth enrollment period was exceeded by 850. The technical agency is well pleased with this excellent showing, says the camp superintendent.

To the delight of all those doing K.P. duty the electric potato peeler is again in service. It was retrieved from the mess hall after the fire last May and extensive repairs were necessary to put it back into serviceable condition.

William Sullivan returned to camp last week after five months in the hospitals at Grayling and Fort Wayne for treatment of severe burns received in the state garage fire here early the morning of May 1st. It is only recently that he has been out of bed.

Junior Forester A. D. Maulbetsch, the most recent addition to the supervisory personnel of the Higgins Lake camp, has been temporarily assigned to detached service for the duration of the planting season. Mr. Maulbetsch's duties consist of inspecting planting in the Houghton, AuSable, Pioneer, and Higgins Lake camps.

At the safety meeting last week Major C. E. Howard presented first aid certificates to 13 men. A class of 38 is now working for similar certificates, instructed by Lieut. G. M. Katzman, the sub-district surgeon.

Camp Higgins Lake expects in the near future to receive 19 white and five colored selectees from Cass county.

Major C. E. Howard and Lieut. G. M. Katzman expect to start recruiting activities shortly to bring CCC companies to normal strength for the sixth enrollment period.

CAMP AUSABLE

G. Kendall Nixon, blister rust checker, was notified of his transfer to the Lansing headquarters of the E.C.W. where he is to work for a month. He left Tuesday morning, Oct. 8.

A class in the care of the automobile has been organized and is growing rapidly every meeting. Material for text is being gathered from several different auto manufacturers.

Lieutenant Cox, former commanding officer of Camp AuSable, was a visitor here Sunday, Oct. 6.

Barracks 8 is being decorated by enrollees Anderson and Rudd. This work is to be the model for the rest of the barracks as they will also be decorated in the same manner.

During the World Series a diagrammatic resume of the game each day was given in the recreation hall.

Major Howard and Dr. Katzman were at Camp AuSable for dinner Saturday, October 5.

Enrollee Edward Brigham was the guest of Dr. Clippert Sunday, October 6. He sang at the Michelson Memorial church Sunday morning.

Enrollees at Camp AuSable are wishing for snow. That sounds odd, but the fact is the roads with snow on them are much smoother than they are at present. The fall rains and the repair work on the AuSable road have made the trip to town on the back of the truck rather uncomfortable.

HARTWICK PINES

The first issue of "Pine Chips" in several weeks, was distributed to the men last Saturday. Cartoons, drawn by Enrollee Cofield captured much attention. Joseph Kudija, assistant to the educational adviser is editor-in-chief and is responsible for the well-arranged news items. Cooperation on the part of many of the men in producing this issue is highly complimentary.

Plans for a new utility house, to be built near the new wall have been completed. Lumber has been provided and Niels Nelson is now busy with pre-Maternity construction.

Fourteen enrollees were discharged from this company on September 21. They were released early to accept employment at home. Payment of wages will be discharged on October 1st. This date terminates the fifth period enrollment. Replacements may be expected soon after that date.

New coal burning stoves will soon be installed in the barracks. It was deemed advisable to furnish the company with coal rather than to depend on wood supply.

Captain Bryant made a business trip to Petoskey on Tuesday.

Mrs. Ida Pierson and son John returned to their home in Madison, Wisconsin last Saturday after a two weeks' visit at the Saunders cottage, Lake Margrethe.

Below we give a report of progress made in educational work at Company 674 for the month of September.

Grange NotesWhat Should Be The Long-Time Program Of The Grange To Help American Rural Life?

Worthy Master, Worthy Brothers and Sisters:

This question, asked by Grange members, outsiders, and non-members, is of vital importance to the future of us all. Every club enterprise or organization should have some goal, some distinct point toward which they can work, struggle, plan for and achieve.

The National Grange was organized as an aid to the farm people of this country—to show that organized farm labor can do so much more than each person working for himself can do. Through the Grange, farmers can get together in a way beneficial to all, and accomplish the things they would all like to do but are unable to alone.

Suggestions are given at the meetings, in the National Grange Monthly for bettering conditions and other little things that add up to quite a bit in the end. New recipes for the housekeepers and suggestions for making work a whole lot easier.

The founders of our Grange knew that by getting the rural people together it would make a pleasant job of farming for all of us. In reading about, and hearing about the works of the Grange from its members, others can be induced to join, and by keeping on doing things that are worth while we can hold their interest and the respect of the community. We can soon get all the people engaged in this one occupation in with us and build up an organization that will be strong enough so that through our efforts we can raise and lower market prices and raise the quality of our products.

By following methods which have been proven best by experiment, in the local community we can work for better living conditions, better public services, better local roads, etc.

Through the circulation of papers, periodicals, etc., and by showing the results of our work we can gain recognition by people not in the Grange and who may be able to help in some of the worth while projects of the Grange. As well also, the people who buy our products, and sell us machinery; and help to establish friendlier terms on which business can be conducted.

Of as much importance as the business of the Grange is the friendly and family-like attitude of the Grangers to each other at the meetings. It breaks the monotony of an endless stream of days with the same routine day after day, and the Grange meeting is a place where we can go to talk over our troubles and give suggestions to help others.

For the children, too, the Future Farmers of America, the Grange is a help. There are programs in which the children may take part—improving their ability and bringing out natural talent, making it easier for them to express themselves. In the Juvenile Granges all over the country the children are finding new happiness and new friends.

One thing that should be done is the Grange co-operating with the Department of Agriculture and organize officials to test relations of different conditions to crops and test stock and crops for quality, to build up their reputation and their markets. If it is generally known that the Grange is doing this kind of work it will build up their own markets and sales opportunities.

The long-time program of the Grange is the program designed to build up a higher standard of living for the rural people of America, to gain help for ourselves and to help others enjoy the fellowship and cooperation of other farmers.

Dale Parker, Grange No. 934.

Annual Affair By Grange

A box social and dance will be held at the Maple Forest town hall Saturday evening, Oct. 26.

These parties are always most enjoyable and they promise you this will be no exception. Bring your box and come for fun.

Juniors Write Autobiographies

Miss Peeke, English teacher, has started pencils and pens a-flying in her 11th grade English class by assigning each student to write their autobiography, of at least 500 words. It's really surprising how much we have accomplished in our few years of life and it is a task to think back through our years and to remember our ambitions, ideas, etc.

There are sure to be many very interesting ones written.

A Few Musical Notes

The High school orchestra has been organized for the coming year. At present they have 12 members.

Miss McNeven, orchestra instructor, is giving individual instructions to those who care for it.

This year a girl's Glee Club with 21 members has been organized. Meetings are held two nights a week. It is hoped that before long a boy's Glee Club can be organized.

There are now 55 students taking piano lessons by the Visual Method.

High School Students Enjoy Party

The first high school party of this year was held last Friday evening from 8:30 to 11:30 in the high school gymnasium. Ted Wheeler's Band furnished plenty of good, peppy music, which was enjoyed by all.

These parties are put on by the Seniors and Juniors.

Seniors And Juniors Elect Party Council

The Seniors chose as their representatives for the party council Yvonne Kraus and Blanche Wheeler.

The Juniors chose Mary Gretchen Connine and Bill Joseph.

This Council has charge of the parties given for the students of the upper six grades.

High School Responds to World Series

The Detroit Tigers sure have a lot of fans in our student body.

A scoreboard was maintained on the blackboard in the Assembly room throughout the World Series. On this was kept the scope by innings.

On Friday afternoon a forty-five minute period was spent in listening to one of the games.

Monday afternoon, those who wanted to hear the game were allowed to go in Room 44 where a radio was set up. Those who weren't interested went to the study hall, library, and classes as usual.

The cooperation of the student body was such that classes went forward with a minimum of interruption. Room 44 had a group of about eighty around the radio and at the end of each period some went to class and their places were taken by others who came from class. Various schools approached this situation in different ways, but the plan used here Monday would be hard to improve upon.

Free!

A basketball clinic for the benefit of the people of Grayling will be held some night during December. The purpose of this meeting will be to explain different phases of basketball with a thorough explanation of the rules. The demonstration will be given by members of the high school basketball squad. At intervals during the demonstration Mr. Cornell will explain the plays.

The date of this free clinic will be announced later.

Basketball Notes

Basketball practice will begin October 28th and the first week will be for all who are interested.

Starting on November 4th and continuing up to the first game with the Alumni, November 22, the group will be divided into first and second squads, with about twelve men on each squad, depending upon the number of men available.

The schedule of seventeen games has been completed and will be announced in a later issue.

Our variety round should be a strong organization with six of last year's ten letter men return-

"OUR GANG" CELEBRATES 7TH ANNIVERSARYAmong the Clerks

Last Thursday being the occasion of the 7th anniversary of the "Our Gang" Sewing club, the ladies made the weekly meeting of the club a very special affair. The home of Mrs. Edna McEvers, who entertained the members, was very gay with fall decorations. The tables were decorated nicely with crepe paper decorations of blue and white and orange. Each table was centered with a huge bouquet of autumn flowers, furnished from the garden of Mrs. Wilder Broadbent. The luncheon, which was a little more elaborate than usual, was made special by a cake decorated in orange and with "7th Anniversary" frosted on it, which was furnished by Mrs. Hurl Deckrow. Keno was enjoyed with prizes being won by Mrs. Albert Knibbs, Mrs. Dewey Palmer, Mrs. Sherman Neal and Mrs. Percy Budd. The penny prize, a box of candy donated by Mrs. Kenneth Cline, was won by Mrs. Hurl Deckrow. Favors were orange candy cups with banners inscribed with the 7th anniversary emblem.

The official installation of officers was held and the following members named: Mrs. Hurl Deckrow, President; Mrs. Archie Brown, Vice-President; Mrs. Earl Broadbent, Secretary; Mrs. Chas. Corwin, reinstated as Treasurer; and Mrs. Barton Wakeley, reinstated as Press Correspondent.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 17th, at Mrs. Middie LaMotte's.

CARD OF THANKS

Our sincere thanks is extended to our neighbors and friends for the many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy in our late bereavement.

Adam Bielski and Family.

ing. They are Borchers, J. Brady, Chalker, G. Hanson, L. Lovely, and D. Smock.

In addition, we have a number of men returning who have seen variety action, but not enough to receive awards.

If the people of Grayling like plenty of action in their basketball team we think they are going to be satisfied this year.

The 4th Grade pupils in Miss Fahler's room have just completed an Indian project. They built an Indian exhibit which consisted of Indian tools, wigwams, and other things depicting early American Indian days. The exhibit proved very educational.

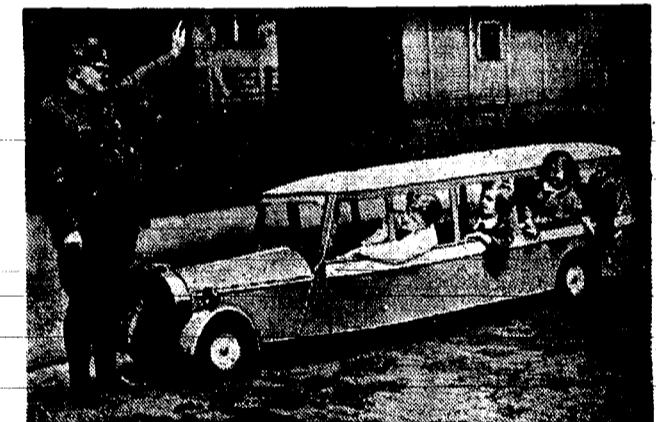

Mr. and Mrs. "Pug" LaGrow are back in town again, after a two weeks' visit at Detroit. They were accompanied here by Jack LaGrow and Paul Dreher, who returned to Detroit the same day.

Misses Ann and Helen Brady left Tuesday for Jackson, where they will spend the remainder of the week. Ann is a "pencil pusher" at the County Welfare Office.

The Harley Kennedy family has moved into an apartment over the Bakery. Miss Emma Lovely, who is a sister to Mrs. Kennedy, is also with them.

Howard Granger and Bob Funkel, accompanied by Howard's bodyguard, Forrest Brado, and Edwin Funkel, made a trip to Lafay last week and to accompany home Mrs. John Corwin who had been visiting there for a couple of weeks.

Smallest Bus Worries the Police

WHAT is believed to be the smallest bus in operation is running around the streets of St. Paul, Minn., and into the hair of traffic police. The miniature transport, built by L. F. Wright of St. Paul, seats nine children and a driver. It is 11 feet long, three wide and three high. The power is derived from four 24-volt batteries and a maximum speed of 18 miles an hour is obtained. It can travel 50 miles without recharging and the state license costs $5. Here is a traffic officer holding up the small bus for an inspection.
